

City Year Los Angeles

What is City Year?

City Year unites young people of all backgrounds for a year of full-time service, giving them the skills and opportunities to change the world. As tutors, mentors and role models, these diverse young leaders help children stay in school and on track, and transform schools and communities across the United States, as well as through international affiliates in Johannesburg, South Africa and London, England. City Year is a proud member of AmeriCorps. City Year Los Angeles was founded in 2007, inspired by a challenge grant from the Goldhirsh Foundation and a lead gift from the Hauptman Family Foundation.

This year, City Year Los Angeles' 200 young leaders will complete more than 340,000 hours of service:

- Mentoring, tutoring, and educating school children in public schools to get kids on track to graduate;
- Organizing after-school programs and school vacation programs;
- Engaging middle and high school students in community service and leadership development activities; and
- Planning and leading physical transformative service projects to revitalize schools and public spaces.
