STARFISH STORY – A STORY OF STUDENT IMPACT

BY YULEIMY LATOUCHE

"I have a student that barely spoke when I met him, was very none responsive in class and barely did any work. Now he comes to tutoring frequently and is the student that I've spent most time with academically. I learned that he is in speech therapy and that's why he was not speaking in class. He has taught me not to judge a book by its covering or don't assume to know the reason for someones behavior. I've finally heard his voice and he is more vocal and confident in class and I'm glad he has grown in that way in the class room."
